

AWARD PRESS RELEASE

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Lynne Pratt, Marketing Director

815-381-7382

Lynne.pratt@orthoillinois.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Headline: John Bottros, MD Awarded on Newsweek America's Leading Doctors 2025 List

Rockford, IL August 29, 2025 – OrthoIllinois total joint reconstruction specialist, John Bottros, MD has been awarded on Newsweek's list of America's Leading Doctors 2025. This prestigious award is presented by Newsweek and Statista Inc., the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider. The awards list was announced on July 30th, 2025, and can be viewed on Newsweek's website.

In an era of informed decision-making, it is increasingly important for patients to make well-founded choices about which doctor to consult for their specific condition. To support this process, Statista and Newsweek have partnered to provide a comprehensive resource: America's Leading Doctors 2025.

Newsweek and Statista have ranked and awarded doctors in 15 different medical specialties based on four data sources:

- Physician Performance Data: Doctors' performance benchmark data sourced from Arcadia was used to evaluate a physician's performed procedures against the state average based on the volume of episodes performed and five measures per procedure (e.g. complications by episodes, mortality rate).
- Recommendations From Peers: Thousands of medical experts (physicians, managers/administrators, and other medical professionals with knowledge in the respective medical field) in 20 US states were invited to an online survey.
- Quality Score: For In-State recommendations, participants were asked to assess the quality of care (e.g., treatments, follow-up care, use of most recent equipment) and professional expertise of the specific specialty.
- Certifications: Surgeons received 5% towards their total score if they have American medical and surgical certifications relevant to each specific medical field.

Based on the results of the study, Dr. Bottros is honored to be recognized on Newsweek's list of America's Leading Doctors 2025.

Statista publishes hundreds of worldwide industry rankings and company listings with high-profile media partners. This research and analysis service is based on the success of statista.com, the leading data and business intelligence portal that provides statistics, relevant business data, and various market and consumer studies and surveys.

About John Bottros, MD

John Bottros, MD joined OrthoIllinois in 2012. He completed his surgical residency training at the prestigious Cleveland Clinic before undergoing an advanced, subspecialty Adult Reconstruction Orthopedic Surgery Fellowship at Rush University Hospital. His practice at OrthoIllinois specializes in adult reconstructive surgery of the knee and hip, with a special interest in complex primary and revision total joint replacement, rapid recovery and perioperative pain management after joint replacement. He also offers robotic assisted joint replacement surgery and routinely performs out-patient total joint procedures that allow his patients to have a hip or knee replaced and recover from the convenience of their own home that same day.

About OrthoIllinois

Established in 1967, OrthoIllinois, a division of OrthoMidwest, serves the northern Illinois region in multi-specialty orthopedics from offices in Algonquin, Elgin, McHenry, and Rockford, and offers a full range of bone and joint care, including the specialties of podiatry, physical medicine and rehabilitation, interventional pain management, occupational health, rheumatology, and chiropractic. OrthoIllinois offers the ancillary services of physical therapy, MRI, and custom orthotics and outpatient surgery centers. Visits are available with no appointments at the Injury Express urgent care locations in Algonquin, Elgin, and Rockford. Visit www.orthoillinois.com for more information. ###

